Tax Tips For The 2014 Taxation Year

This guide was compiled by Graeme Treeby of The “Special Needs” Planning Group. It is intended for free distribution to organizations serving the Special Needs Community, clients and friends of The “Special Needs” Planning Group (www.specialneedsplanning.ca) and anyone else who may be interested. It is not to be taken as Accounting or Tax advice but rather, as a resource to provide a starting point for your journey through the maze that is Income Tax Preparation and Planning for people with a disability and their families. Graeme Treeby can be reached at 905 640-8285 or graemetreeby@sympatico.ca.

What’s New for 2014?

Once again, the Canada Revenue Agency has announced some changes to the income tax rules. The following changes may be of use to people with disabilities and their families.

- A. Personalized Therapy Plans: Beginning in the taxation year 2014, amounts that are paid as salary for the design of Personalized Therapy Plans for people with disabilities who qualify for the Disability Tax Credit may be deducted as medical expenses.
- B. Service Animals: The costs of service animals used to help to manage severe diabetes may also be deducted as medical expenses.
- C. Children’s Fitness Amount: Under proposed changes to the legislation, the amount of eligible fees may be increased from $500 to $1,000 for a child under age 16 at the beginning of the year or age 18 if they qualify for the Disability Tax Credit.
- D. Family Tax Cut: New for 2014, the Family Tax Cut is a non-refundable tax credit which is available to eligible couples with children under age 18. It can reduce the amount of tax payable by up to $2000 through the notional transfer of income from a higher earner to the lower earner.

- E. Adoption Expense: The amount of eligible expenses for each child under age 18 adopted in 2014 has been increased to $15,000.

- F. Child Care Expense Increase: If you have paid someone to look after your child who qualifies for the Disability Amount, you may be able to deduct up to $11,000 for child care expenses which is an increase from $10,000 last year.

- G. Age 17 Tax Returns: While not new, it is important to remember to file income tax returns for people receiving RDSP Grants and Bonds. The income amount switches from the parents income to the person with the disability's income at the beginning of the year that he or she turns age 19. The income amount used for these calculations is the amount reported to CRA 2 years prior to the current year. Therefore submit an Income Tax Return for the year in which the person turns age 17 and every year thereafter, even if he or she has earned no income in those years.

Tax Time - 2014

Once again, it is time for us to prepare our annual income tax returns. Your returns must be filed by April 30, 2015 in order to avoid late filing penalties. In addition, 2014 contributions to our RRSP's can be made up until March 2, 2015. The Income Tax Act allows us to take advantage of a variety of different credits and deductions that can minimize the amount of tax that we have to pay. Families with members with disabilities have a number of benefits that can be taken advantage of if they are aware of their existence. The purpose of this guide is three fold:

1. To introduce you to the a) The Disability Amount, b) The Caregiver Amount and c) The T2201 Disability Tax Credit Certificate used to secure them.
2. To share a FREE Re-File Process to Get Back Taxes That Should Never Have Paid in the first place.
3. To highlight many of the Tax Deductions, Credits and Benefits available to people with disabilities and their families.

1. Introduction to:

a) The Disability Amount (Disability Tax Credit)

Perhaps one of the most valuable tax credit available to people with disabilities and their families is the Disability Amount. This credit is most often called the Disability Tax Credit (DTC). It is a non-refundable tax credit which can reduce the amount of tax that a person with a disability has to pay. If the DTC is not required by the person with a disability to reduce their taxable income to zero, then it may be transferred in whole or in part to a family member who supplied some or all of the basic necessities of life such as food, shelter and clothing to the person.

In the 2014 Taxation Year, the Disability Amount for a person who was 18 years of age or older is $7,766.00. If the person with the disability was under age 18 then there is also a Disability Tax Credit Supplement of $4,530.00 that is added to the disability amount. Both of these amounts can be transferred if necessary. Details of the Disability Amount can be found on Canada Revenue Agency's web site by following the link at:

<http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/tx/ndvdl/tpcs/ncm-tx/rtrn/cmpltng/ddctns/lns300-350/316-eng.html>

b) The Caregiver Amount (Caregiver Tax Credit)

Another tax credit available to families of people with disabilities is the Caregiver Amount or Caregiver Tax Credit. If, at any time in the year, you maintained a dwelling where you and a dependant lived, you may be able to claim this amount. The caregiver tax credit is the same dollar amount as the Disability Tax Credit Supplement which is $4530.00 for the 2014 taxation year. The credit is equal in value to the Disability Tax Credit Supplement which ends at age 18. (the Disability Tax Credit itself continues after age 18). The dependant must be 18 years or older when they lived with you and must be dependent on you due to a mental or physical infirmity. Also, the dependent's net income (line 236) cannot exceed $20,002 in 2014. This credit cannot be claimed for a person who was only visiting you. It cannot also be claimed if you claim the "Infirm Dependant Credit", an amount of similar value to "The Caregiver Tax Credit". The Family Caregiver Tax Credit can increase this amount by $2058.00 for qualified people. More information on the Caregiver Tax Credit can be found on Canada Revenue Agency's web site by following the link at:

<http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/tx/ndvdl/tpcs/nem-tx/rtrn/cmpltng/ddctns/lns300-350/315/menu-eng.html>

c) T2201 Disability Tax Credit Certificate

In order to apply for the Disability Tax Credit, information relating to your disability must be reviewed by Canada Revenue Agency. This information is collected on form T2201, "Disability Tax Credit Certificate" which is submitted to CRA. This form can be obtained on line at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/E/pbg/tf/t2201/>. In order to assist you in determining whether or not you may qualify for the DTC, the T2201 form contains a self-assessment questionnaire. This questionnaire may be useful in helping you decide on how to proceed with the application.

It should also be noted that the Disability Tax Credit Certificate is a requirement for participation in the Registered Disability Savings Plan. Qualifying for the DTC also attracts enhancements to the Children's Fitness Tax Credit and the Children's Arts Tax credit which will be outlined later in this article. Therefore, even if a person cannot use the Disability Tax Credit (due to income levels) there is still significant benefit in obtaining it.

If a person needs assistance in filling out the form and if they wish to appoint another individual or organization as their Representative for income tax matters, they must complete CRA's form T1013, "Authorizing or Cancelling a Representative". This form can be found on the web at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/E/pbg/tf/t1013/>. The completed form will allow the named representative to have access to your records with CRA and to act on your behalf with respect to issues surrounding your tax matters.

A person may be eligible for the disability amount if a qualified practitioner certifies on Form T2201 Disability Tax Credit Certificate, that you have a prolonged impairment, and that the effects of the impairment are such that one of the following applies:

- You are blind, even with the use of corrective lenses or medication.
- You are markedly restricted in any one of the following basic activities of daily living:
 - speaking;
 - hearing;
 - walking;
 - elimination (bowel or bladder functions);
 - feeding;
 - dressing; or
 - performing the mental functions necessary for everyday life.
- You need, and must dedicate a certain amount of time specifically for, life-sustaining therapy to support a vital function.
- For 2005 and later years - you do not quite meet the criteria for blind or markedly restricted, but the following conditions apply:
 - because of your impairment, you are significantly restricted in two or more basic activities of daily living, or you are significantly restricted in vision and at least one of the basic activities of daily living, even with appropriate therapy, medication, and devices;
 - these significant restrictions exist together, all or substantially all the time (at least 90% of the time); and
 - the cumulative effect of these significant restrictions is equivalent to being markedly restricted in a single basic activity of daily living.

Your doctor will complete the form with his or her impression of the impact your disability has on you in the various categories. The doctor should also complete the full details of the effects of the impairment on the last page of the form. The more information provided the easier it will be to approve the application. It is also important to stress to the doctor that the “onset of impairment” date be listed as the very first date upon which the impairment began. This is important when any back-filing actions are undertaken. (see below for details on back-filing)

Once the form is completed, you should sign it, and forward it to Canada Revenue Agency. These forms can be reviewed at any time of the year so you needn’t wait until tax time for submission. In fact, it often takes several months for Canada Revenue Agency to approve the form and so it would be prudent to send it in as soon as it has been completed by your doctor.

The Disability Amount is available to people based on the date of onset of the impairment. If you have been approved for a period of time for which you have not claimed the credit, you may re-file for those years and receive a refund for taxes that you have previously paid for as many as 10 years. Please see the next section to see how to back-file for prior years.

2. Get Back Taxes That You Should Never Have Paid

It is quite possible that you may not be keeping as much of your hard earned money as you are entitled to keep. Many people in the special needs community are giving the Government thousands upon thousands of dollars in tax revenue that should stay in our community. But this doesn't have to continue. By following a few simple steps, people with disabilities and their caregivers can claim the DTC from this year onward and for up to 10 years in the past where they have not claimed the credit. In addition, caregivers can also claim back as far as 2004 for the Caregiver Tax Credit provided that your dependent is over age 18 in each of the years being claimed. These credits could result in you receiving tax refunds of $10,000, $18,000 and even much more when combined with the other tax credits or deductions that you may have missed over the years and which are still available to you.

Once the DTC has been approved by Canada Revenue Agency, you will be notified by them. The back-filing process is very simple; so simple in fact that virtually anyone can do it. Therefore, why pay any of the many tax re-file firms that have sprung up in our community in the last few years anywhere from 15% to 35% of the refund for a task that can be completed by you in about 10 minutes? The Federal Government has some serious concerns about the amount that these firms are charging and so has launched an enquiry process with a view toward limiting the amount they are allowed to charge. Some of those firms are not even represented by trained Accountants.

The choice is yours. If you are not comfortable with completing and submitting forms, then by all means talk to an Accountant and have him or her re-file for you for a couple of hundred dollars (ask your accountant for rates). If you are not comfortable using an Accountant, then by all means talk to one of the re-file firms and have them re-file for you for a several thousand dollars. However if you are interested in saving your hard earned money and are willing to do a little work on your own, then simply follow the step by step instructions that follow to re-file for previously paid taxes.

As a general rule of thumb, when an ODSP recipient lives with his or her family and receives the standard boarder rate of $840 per month, a family member who provides support to the ODSP recipient ordinarily would be able to get a transfer of the full Disability Tax Credit. If the ODSP recipient earns other income, there are some restrictions which must be taken into account. Please refer to Canada Revenue Agency tax guides if this is your situation.

There are two methods that can be employed to re-filing your tax returns for prior years. The first and easiest method is to simply mail a letter to Canada Revenue Agency outlining the details of your claim and asking that they review your file for the past 10 years. This is the easiest method but our understanding is that it takes a little bit longer for the refund to arrive. If you are not in a particular hurry, this may be your best choice.

The alternative method is to acquire the Canada Revenue Agency T1 Adjustment Request form. A fillable form can be found on the web at:

<http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/E/pbg/tf/t1-adj/README.html>

It is a one page form and comes complete with written instructions. A separate form should be submitted for each year that you wish to have adjusted. On line, you can fill in the information with respect to your Identification, Authorizations, and Adjustment Details.

If you, as a person with a disability are applying for an adjustment to the Disability Amount for yourself, the line number the Adjustment Details section is 316 and the name of the line is “Disability Amount”. If you are applying for an adjustment for an amount transferred from a dependant, the line number is 318 and it is called “Disability Amount Transferred From a Dependant”. It would include both the Disability Tax Credit plus the Supplement Amount if your son or daughter is under the age of 18. The caregiver claim may be reduced if a claim has also been made for child care, attendant care or certain related medical expenses. If you are a caregiver who qualifies under the Caregiver Tax Credit and who is back-filing for the Caregiver Tax Credit, the line number is 315 and the name of the line is “Caregiver Amount”. The amount to be printed in the Revised Amount column can be taken from the following chart.

Line Numbers and Maximum Claim Amounts:

Taxation Year	DTC Amt. Self (Line 316)	DTC From Dependent (Line 318)	DTC Supplement (Line 318)	Caregiver Tax Credit (Line 315)
2014	$7766.00	$7766.00	$4530.00	$4530.00
2013	$7697.00	$7697.00	$4490.00	$4490.00
2012	$7546.00	$7546.00	$4402.00	$4402.00
2011	$7341.00	$7341.00	$4282.00	$4282.00
2010	$7239.00	$7239.00	$4223.00	$4223.00
2009	$7196.00	$7196.00	$4198.00	$4198.00
2008	$7021.00	$7021.00	$4095.00	$4095.00
2007	$6890.00	$6890.00	$4019.00	$4019.00
2006	$6741.00	$6741.00	$3933.00	$3933.00
2005	$6596.00	$6596.00	$3848.00	$3848.00
2004	$6486.00	$6486.00	$3784.00	$3784.00

Once the forms have been completed, they should be signed and mailed to your taxation office as indicated below. Be sure to keep copies of all forms that are submitted to Canada Revenue Agency and remember that a separate form must be submitted for each year that you wish to have adjusted. It will take several weeks or months but eventually you should receive your refund.

3. Tax Deductions, Credits and Benefits:

The next section of this article relates to the various deductions, credits and benefits that are available to people with disabilities and their caregivers. It is intended that we will list the categories that are available to people with disabilities themselves and categories that are available to the caregivers of people with disabilities. We suggest that you scan each of the descriptions and if it sounds like that particular deduction may apply to you and your situation, then you can investigate further into the details of the rules and regulations.

Deductions, Credits and Benefits Available to People With Disabilities Themselves:

- Disability Supports Deduction: If you are a person with a disability you may be able to deduct disability supports expenses you incurred in the year to work, go to school, or to do research for which you were paid. The Disability Supports are actually claimed as medical expenses on your Income Tax Return and some examples and links to the web site descriptions are:
 - Attendant care services
 - Bliss symbol boards
 - Braille note-taker devices
 - Braille printers, synthetic speech systems, large print-on-screen devices
 - Deaf-blind intervening services
 - Devices or software
 - Electronic speech synthesizers
 - Job coaching services
 - Note-taking services
 - Optical scanners
 - Page turner devices
 - Reading services
 - Real-time captioning or sign-language interpretation services
 - Talking textbooks
 - Teletypewriters
 - Tutoring services
 - Voice recognition software

- Other deductions: Misc amounts found at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/tx/ndvdl/tpcs/ncm-tx/rtrn/cmpltng/ddctns/lns206-236/232/menu-eng.html> relating to misc. items
- Disability Amount: As previously mentioned, this is a non-refundable tax credit which can reduce the amount of tax that a person with a disability has to pay.
- Tuition Fees: Some tuition fees can be claimed for courses taken in the taxation year.
- Spouse or common-law partner amount: If a person supported a low income spouse or common law partner, a deduction is available.
- Education Amount: A person can claim a full-time education amount of $400 per month for each month in the year that your were enrolled in a qualifying program or $120 per month of part time enrollment.
- Text Book Amount: If you qualify for the Education Amount, you can also claim $65 for each month you qualify for the full-time education amount; and $20 for each month you qualify for the part-time education amount.
- Working Income Tax Benefit: This benefit is available to people who qualify for the Disability Tax Credit and who have employment income in the year. In 2014 it includes a basic claim plus a supplemental benefit for individuals who qualify for the Disability Tax Credit. These amounts may be adjusted depending on where you live in Canada and on your family income levels. Further information can be found at <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/bnfts/wtb/menu-eng.html>
- Medical Expenses: See the Medical Expenses section to follow.
- Amount for children born in 1997 or later: You can claim an amount for each of your or your spouse's or common law partner's children who are under 18 years of age at the end of the year.
- Home buyers' amount: Credit of $5000 applies. A person qualifying for the DTC does not have to purchase a first home to qualify.
- Refundable medical expense supplement:

Deductions, Credits and Benefits Available to Caregivers of a Person With a Disability:

- Family Caregiver Amount: This amount is designed to provide tax support for caregivers of infirm dependent family members. Infirm dependents now include spouses, common-law partners and minor children. The family caregiver amount (FCA) may increase the maximum for one or more of the following non-refundable tax credits by $2,058 for each of your dependants who have an impairment in physical or mental functions:
 - spouse or common-law partner amount (line 303);
 - amount for an eligible dependant (line 305);
 - amount for children born in 1997 or later (line 367); and
 - caregiver amount (line 315).
- Child Disability Benefit: Families with children who qualify for the disability amount may be eligible for the Child Disability Benefit. It is income tested based on family income and the maximum available in the 2014 tax year is $2650. Therefore, the benefit provides up to $220.83 per eligible child.
- Children's Fitness Amount: You can claim if you were a resident of Ontario and you paid fees that relate to the cost of registering your or your spouse's or common-law partner's child in a qualifying children's activity program in 2014. The child must have been born in 1998 or later or, if eligible for the disability amount, in 1996 or later. For each eligible child, you can claim the lesser of the proposed $1,000 and the amount of eligible expenses paid for qualifying programs for that child in 2014. If the child qualifies for the disability amount and is under 18 years of age at the beginning of the year, and at least $100 was paid for registration or membership fees for qualifying programs for that child in 2014, you can claim an additional $500 for that child.
- Children's Arts Amount: You can claim to a maximum of $500 per child the fees paid in 2014 relating to the cost of registration or membership of your or your spouse's or common-law partner's child in a prescribed program of artistic, cultural, recreational, or developmental activity. If the child qualifies for the disability amount and is under 18 years of age at the beginning of the year, an additional amount of $500 can be claimed as long as a minimum of $100 is paid on registration or membership fees for a prescribed program.

- Child Care Expenses: If you have paid someone to look after your child who qualifies for the Disability Amount, you may be able to deduct up to $11,000 for child care expenses.
- Amount for Eligible Dependant: If you did not have a spouse or common-law partner and you supported a dependant with whom you lived in a home you maintained you may be able to claim this amount.
- Amount for Infirm Dependents Age 18 and Over: You may be able to claim an amount for a dependent child or grandchild if that child was mentally or physically infirm.
- Caregiver Amount: As previously stated, if, at any time in the year, you maintained a dwelling where you and an adult dependant lived, you may be able to claim this amount.
- Disability Amount Transferred From a Dependant: If the DTC is not required by the person with a disability to reduce their taxable income to zero, then it may be transferred in whole or in part to a family member who supplied some or all of the basic necessities of life such as food, shelter and clothing to the person. The person with the disability does not have to live with the family member in order to make the transfer.
- Tuition, Education and Textbook Amounts Transferred from a Child: If the person with a disability does not require these amounts, a supporting person may be able to claim all or part of the unused amount.
- Adoption Expenses: You can claim an amount for eligible adoption expenses related to the completed adoption of a child who is under 18 years of age that were incurred during the adoption period. The maximum claim for each child is $15,000 for the 2014 taxation year.

Medical Expenses:

This is a major section of potential deductions that may be available to people with disabilities themselves or to caregivers of people with disabilities. You can claim eligible medical expenses paid in any 12-month period ending in 2014 and not claimed by you or anyone else in 2013. If you are claiming for yourself, your spouse or common law partner or for a child under the age of 18, you claim the expenses on line 330 of your return. The expenses you claim for all other dependants is done on line 331 of your return. The amount claimed for a person with a disability is reduced by formula based on his or her income. There is no maximum amount that can be claimed in any given year

You do not have to send any supporting documents relating to the Medical Expense claims to Canada Revenue Agency when you submit your return. This applies to income tax returns submitted electronically or those submitted on paper. You still need to keep them in case CRA asks to see them at a later date. Those receipts must show the name of the company or individual to whom the expense was paid. Receipts for attendant care or therapy paid to an individual should also show the individual's social insurance number.

If you are submitting a claim for medical expenses, speak with your Pharmacy and ask for a print out of your prescriptions for 2014. All Pharmacists in Ontario and some other provinces are required to provide you with a listing free of charge. This can be useful in preparing your returns.

The following is a partial listing of eligible medical expenses. It is not exhaustive. Once again, we suggest that you scan each of the descriptions and if it sounds like that particular deduction may apply to you and your situation, then you can investigate further into the details of the rules and regulations.

Non-eligible as expenses include the following:

- athletic or fitness club fees;
- birth control devices (non-prescription);
- blood pressure monitors;
- cosmetic surgery - expenses for purely cosmetic procedures including any related services and other expenses such as travel, incurred after March 4, 2010, cannot be claimed as medical expenses. Both surgical and non-surgical procedures purely aimed at enhancing one's appearance are not eligible. These non-eligible expenses include the following:
 - liposuction;
 - hair replacement procedures;
 - filler injections (for removal of wrinkles);
 - teeth whitening.

An expense, including those identified above, may qualify as a medical expense if it is necessary for medical or reconstructive purposes, such as surgery to address a deformity related to a congenital abnormality, a personal injury resulting from an accident or trauma, or a disfiguring disease.
